RUSH ORDER TO PRINTER

REPORT OF SELECT COMMITTEE.

The following report of select committee was received, and ordered printed in the Journal:

MR. PRESIDENT: Your special committee appointed to determine whether or not Sections 249 and 250 of the Political Code are constitutional and binding upon the Senate respectfully report that from the authorities attached hereto they are of the opinion that said sections are unconstitutional.

GATES, Chairman.
KEHOE.
CAMPBELL.

Regarding the constitutionality of Sections 249 and 250 of the Political Code of the State of California, relating to duties of Judiciary Committee.

The legislative power of this state shall be vested in a Senate and Assembly, which shall be designated "The Legislature of the State of California." (Constitution, Article IV, Section 1.) Each house shall determine the rule of its proceeding. (Article I, Section 9.)

Sections 249 and 250 of the Political Code of the State of California prescribe what shall be the duties of the Judiciary Committee of each house of the Legislature in addition to what duties may be prescribed by the rules of each house. These sections were originally introduced as additions to the code by Assemblyman A. Caminetti (a member of the Judiciary Committee), Assembly Bill No. 416, January 23, 1899. The bill as amended passed by unanimous vote of the Assembly February 24th, and by vote of 25 to 5 in the Senate on March 20th, and was approved by the Governor on March 22d. Of the five who voted against the bill two were members of the Judiciary Committee of the Senate, Messrs. Boyce and Stratton.

This statute as enacted seems to be in violation of that section above quoted of the Constitution which provides that each house shall determine the rule of its proceeding.

"The principle, that each branch of the legislative assembly has a right to determine its own rule, is deemed so important that where it is inserted in the constitution of a state, it has been doubted whether it was competent for the legislature of such state, by law, to provide rules for the government of its respective branches, which should bind them and supersede their authority to make rules for themselves." (Cushing: Law and Practice of Legislative Assemblies.)

In French vs. Senate (146 Cal. 608), the court, in discussing the power of the Senate to control procedure said: "The Senate has power to adopt any procedure and to change it at any time and without notice. It can not tie its own hands by establishing rules which, as a matter of power purely, it can not at any time change and disregard. Its action in any given case is the only criterion by which to determine the rule of proceeding adopted for that case."

In Ex parte D. O. McCarthy (29 Cal. 465), the court, in considering the power of the Senate to investigate charges of bribery against its members, discusses the parliamentary law as it appears at page 221 of Cushing's Law and Practice of Legislative Assemblies, and says: "A legislative assembly, when established, becomes vested with all the powers and privileges which are necessary and incidental to a free and unobstructed exercise of its appropriate functions. These powers and privileges are derived not from the constitution, on the contrary, they arise from the very creation of a legislative body, and are founded upon the principle of self-preservation. The constitution is not a grant, but a restriction upon the power of the legislature, and hence an express enumeration of legislative powers and privileges in the constitution can not be considered as the exclusion of others not named unless accompanied by negative terms. A legislative assembly has, therefore, all the powers and privileges which are necessary to enable it to exercise in all respects, in a free, intelligent and impartial manner, its appropriate functions, except so far as it may be restrained by the express provisions of the constitution, or by some express law made unto itself, regulating and limiting the same."

On January 5, 1878, a question arose in the House of Representatives (U. S. Congress) under a section of the Act of 1855 which provides that reports and bills from the Court of Claims if not finally acted upon at one Congress shall be continued from session to session until finally acted upon. Mr. Jones, of Tennessee, held that no Congress could pass a law binding a succeeding and Mr. Stephens, of Georgia, held that the bills must begin de novo. The Speaker held that the bills shall be resumed and the proceedings commenced de novo. (Hind's Precedents, 4: 3298.)

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

The following report of special committee was received and read:

SENATE CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, CAL., March 27, 1913.

MR. PRESIDENT: Your committee appointed under resolution of March 11, 1913, "to investigate all phases of the so-called 'social evil' or 'white slavery' and the relation of the same to the wages of the working women in California, to report its finding to the Senate at the earliest practical date upon the conclusion of such investigation," begs leave to report as follows:

That your committee has given thorough and careful consideration to the matter of said resolution and the duties to be performed thereunder, that it is the sense of the committee that it would be impossible to even cursorily or perfunctorily investigate the said "social evil" or "white slave traffic" in all its phases, much less to investigate the relationship of said evil and traffic to the wages of the working women in this State, or the relationship of the wages of working women to said "social evil."

That in the opinion of your committee the scope of the resolution is so wide and comprehensive that the time at the disposal of your committee and the appropriation made for such investigation are altogether inadequate to the end to be reached; that to investigate the question of wages alone would require much more time than the remainder of this session of the Legislature, even if your committee were to devote its entire time to said subject, to the time of adjournment. That to investigate the question of the so-called "social evil" with its attendant "white slave traffic," in all its phases, would also require many months of patient, thorough and unremitting attention and the expenditure of a large sum of money, entirely beyond the scope of time and money allowed to this committee.

Your committee further declares its full sympathy with the object to be obtained and it urgently recommends that an investigation, either by a committee of the two houses of this Legislature, armed with plenary powers and equipped with an appropriation adequate for the purpose, or, by a commission created by law with like powers and equipment, be authorized by this Legislature to convene and sit at the

MINORITY REPORT SUBMITTED.

Senator Cammetti, in accordance with permission previously granted by the Senate, presented the following:

SENATE CHAMBER, SANTA FE, NEW MEXICO, March 26, 1913.

MR. PRESIDENT: The undersigned members of the Senate Judiciary Committee, to which committee was referred Senate Bill No. 54, beg leave to report that said bill was considered at several meetings of said committee, but that the members thereof fail to agree on recommendation to be submitted to the Senate on said bill.

The majority of the committee, having agreed that said Senate Bill No. 54 be reported out with the recommendation that it do not pass, and the undersigned minority of the committee, being opposed to such recommendation, do herein recommend that said Senate Bill No. 54 do pass.

We herewith submit extracts of the argument of Andrew Dunseath, Esq., made before the Judiciary Committee, in support of the said bill:

"The modern use of the writ of injunction, especially in labor disputes, is revolutionary and destructive of popular government.

"Our government was designed to be a government by law, said law to be enacted by the legislative branch, construed by the judiciary and administered by the executive.

"An injunction is 'an extraordinary writ, issued out of equity, enjoining a threatened injury to property or property rights, where there is not a plain, adequate and complete remedy at law.'

"The definition of equity is 'the application of rule and justice to the legal adjustment of differences where the law, by reason of its universality, is deficient,' or, 'that system of jurisprudence which comprehends those matters of fact for which the common law provides no remedy * * * springing originally from the royal prerogative, moderating the harshness of the common law according to good conscience.' In other words, it is the exercise of power according to the judgment and conscience of one man.

"It was for this reason that in Great Britain, whence the United States derives its system of equity as well as of law, the equity power was limited to the protection of property or property rights, and in such cases only where there was no remedy at law; the words 'adequate and complete' have been added here.

"When the courts of equity take jurisdiction, enter and issue injunctions in labor disputes, they do so to protect business, which, under late rulings by several courts, is held to be property. These rulings are disputed and condemned by other courts, which hold that relations between employers and employees—between buyer and seller—are personal relations, and as such, if regulated at all, are regulated by statute or common law only. If the latter contention be right, and of this we believe there can be no question, the ruling that makes business property, or the right to carry on or continue in business a property right is revolutionary and must lead to a complete change, not only in our industrial, but in our political life. If the court of equity be permitted to enjoin personal relations, it will gradually draw to itself all legislative power. If it be permitted to set aside or to enforce law, it will ultimately arrogate to itself construction now held by the law courts, and abolish trial by jury.

"The constitution, rather grants power upon the courts by stating that they shall have jurisdiction, as now and as exercised in the mother country, that it makes it their duty to issue the writ of habeas corpus and it authorizes the same writ as it provides for trial by jury. Equity power can be no more exercised in England at the time of the adoption of our constitution, and it can be granted and denied by English authorities that our courts could not adopt consideration of labor disputes except by the adoption of a ruling that business is property. It becomes property in the case of a strike or a boycott, and can therefore be protected by the equity court against diminution of its usual income, caused by a strike or boycott conducted by the working people, then it becomes property at other times, and therefore entitled to be protected against loss of income caused by competition from other all, he was but a man. Are we going to permit the growing up of a despotic government by the judges? Are not they also men?

"The despotism of one can in this sense be no better than the despotism of another. If we are to preserve 'government of the people, by the people, and for the people,' any usurpation by the judiciary must be as sternly resisted as usurpation by the executive.

"What labor is now seeking is the assistance of all liberty-loving men in restoring the common law definitions of property and in restricting the jurisdiction of the equity courts in that connection to what it was at the time of the adoption of the constitution."

All of which is respectfully submitted.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The following communication was received and ordered printed in the Journal:

RAILROAD COMMISSION OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA.
SAN FRANCISCO, March 26, 1911.

To the Honorable the Senate of the State of California:

GENTLEMEN: The undersigned is in receipt of a communication, dated at [illegible] March 24, 1911, from W. N. Pierce, enclosing a copy of resolution adopted by [illegible] relative to [illegible] The said matter was duly considered [illegible] by the commission, and the following Senate Bills:

No. 982, relating to station facilities.
No. 1153, relating to [illegible] passenger trains.
No. 1250, relating to carrying and weighing coal.
No. 1478, regulating the [illegible] of logs [illegible]
No. 243, relating to the [illegible] of railroad crossings.
No. 88, relating to [illegible] and [illegible] and
No. 847, relating to the [illegible] of railroad trains.

The commission begs leave to thank the Senate for [illegible] and we will be the last of our wishes, and [illegible] on the [illegible]

Senate Bill No. 982, introduced by Senator [illegible] requires that [illegible] agreements within [illegible] of this Act, [illegible] shall be granted by the Railroad Commission of California on a showing made [illegible] the [illegible] of such railroad corporation to comply with the provisions of this Act. [illegible] to equip all locomotives engaged [illegible] power, mechanical [illegible] the application [illegible] used in switching of cars, and provides a penalty for violation.

This commission has already been investigating the question here involved, and our engineering department advises us that all main line engines should be equipped with headlights of the candle power provided in the bill. We, however, deem it inadvisable to have the matter limited to electric headlights, because we are advised that there are improved types of headlights now coming into use, and it may be that even better headlights can be provided than the ones set out in the bill. It would also seem that the roads should not be put to the expense of installing headlights on engines that are only used in daylight, and we would suggest that branch lines handling schedule trains which leave after daylight and arrive before dark should be exempt from the necessity of having the engines used thereon equipped with electric headlights. The same exemption should be made in favor of some of the small roads of the State that run no trains at night.

We believe that this commission has ample authority under the Public Utilities Act to provide the relief which is sought to be secured by means of this statute, but inasmuch as the statute represents the maximum relief which we could give and is in line with what we are advised should be done, and the further fact that the safety of the employees and the public is of much more consequence than any amount of money involved in additional safety facilities, we see no reason why it should not be passed, particularly when by so doing this commission would probably be relieved of the necessity of consuming considerable amount of time in further hearings in these questions. We suggest, however, that a provision could easily be inserted which would make this Act much more flexible and bring about the same desired result by allowing this commission to pass in special cases upon the kind of headlights to be installed.

Therefore, we see no reason why this bill should not be passed, provided it is amended in the respects we have suggested.

Since our attention was drawn to this bill we understand certain amendments have been added along the line we have suggested, but we are not advised as to the exact form of such amendments.

Senate Bill No. 1103. This is an Act the import of which is to require railroads operating trains between points 25 miles apart when the schedule time exceeds 40 minutes, to install toilet facilities. It is undoubtedly aimed at some of the interurban electric lines, and we believe its intent is entirely proper, but we call attention to the fact that it is not of great or general importance, such as the Act just discussed, and inasmuch as this commission has undoubted authority under Section 42 of the Public Utilities Act, and such authority has been well sustained by the courts, we do not believe that the bill is necessary. By bringing complaint before this commission, the matter could be disposed of, even before a statute could be passed and its effective date reached.

No complaint has reached the commission respecting this matter, else it would have had attention heretofore.

Senate Bill No. 1256. This bill attempts to regulate the carriage of coal and to impose the losses upon the carrier. The carrier is now responsible, under the rules of negligence, for any losses which may be occasioned after the commodity has been accepted for transportation and before its delivery. Under our view of the law, the bill would not add anything to the liability which now attaches to a carrier and would simply designate the method of procedure which should be followed by the court in applying the general rules of law which cover the same subject.

Over the question of weighing, this commission has ample jurisdiction at the present time under the Public Utilities Act, and if abuses along this line are brought to our attention, we will attempt to correct them. We would call attention to the fact however, that it is our belief that this bill goes somewhat too far in requiring coal to be weighed at each connecting point between carriers. If this bill is necessary, similar legislation would be insistable for many other commodities. The shippers, of course, should be protected and we believe the present laws are ample to protect them.

Senate Bill No. 1473. The design of this bill is to make it a duty incumbent upon the railroads to furnish invalids transportation accommodations when traveling in baggage or mail cars. The rest of the bill is a re-enactment of Section 490 of the Civil Code as it now stands.

We are clearly of the opinion, that under Section 42 of the Public Utilities Act, the commission could give this relief. The railroads have urged the objection heretofore, that in many of their trains there is danger, particularly in case of wrecks, of the baggage falling upon the injured person. It is our belief, however, that some facility, either in the baggage car or elsewhere, should be provided for the carrying of injured or invalid passengers. The bill, at least, ought to be amended so as to provide in addition to the language, "baggage or mail car," "or elsewhere upon said train," giving the railroads the option to provide alternative accommodations. There are instances on record where sudden stopping of trains has caused baggage to fall upon invalid passengers in baggage cars, causing their death.

Senate Bill No. 243. We have no hesitancy in saying that if the Public Utilities Act is a good Act this bill is dangerous. While the [illegible] defeats the important main defect with this more or less unimportant amendment is used for a basis to re-enact the entire statute, which being re-enacted subsequent to the passage of the Public Utilities Act, of course supersedes the Public Utilities Act.

and to that extent repeals that portion of the Act which is inconsistent with this Senate Bill No. 847. It is intended by enacting this Act to [illegible] so as to [illegible] that this bill is a very dangerous experiment, and will prove to be [illegible] corporations to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

MR. PRESIDENT: I have this day voted against Assembly Bill No. 164, but would like my reasons for so doing appear in the Journal.

Because of the fact that the money now in the hands of the commissioners for the purposes intended, are likely to be expended before the next session of the legislature, and there is no assurance that the commissioners will ever be appointed under the provisions of this bill, that is, the commissioners appointed by the governor, and because of the fact that the money in the hands of the commissioners now appointed by the governor, and because of the fact that the money in the hands of the commissioners now appointed by the governor, and because of the fact that the money in the hands of the commissioners now not be accepted and, therefore, I voted for it, appreciating that if I was in error on either point, I erred on the side of a good purpose. I doubt if this bill will accomplish what is desired for this reason: Section 3479 of the Civil Code ever since 1872 has provided that "Anything which is injurious to the health or is indecent, or offensive to the senses * * * * is a nuisance." Section 3480 defines a public nuisance. Section 3491 provides that a public nuisance may be abated in a civil action and by Section 3493 it is provided that: "A private person may maintain an action for a public nuisance if it is specially injurious to himself but not otherwise." That a private person owning property next to a house of prostitution is specially injured, will not be seriously denied. Under Section 316 of the Penal Code the conducting of a house of prostitution is made a crime; therefore, every remedy necessary to abate a nuisance, public or private, is now and for years has beem amply provided for by law.

But when, in any action where an injunction or restraining order is sought (except in actions between husband and wife) the court must require an undertaking in such sum to be fixed by the court to be first filed. This is provided for in Section 529 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Now by none of the sections of the Civil Code referred to and which provide for the abatement of nuisances, is there any provision requiring an undertaking, and therefore, the requirement for the undertaking is provided for in Section 529 of the Code of Civil Procedure above referred to, and as that section is not in conflict with any of the provisions of any of said sections of the Civil Code mentioned above, and therefore, the repealing section of the bill under consideration can be construed as not repealing the Section 527 of the Code of Civil Procedure as repeals by implication are not favored, and if so construed, then what the proponents of this bill claim as its particular virtue will not be found therein.

Now if that virtue is contained therein and an action under this bill is to be commenced and an injunction issued without the requirement of a bond, then the bill is likely to fall under the inhibition of Subdivision 3 of Section 25 of Article IV of the Constitution which prohibits the passage of a law regulating the practice of the courts of justice, and that it so regulates the practice of courts will not be seriously denied, and for those two reasons I fear the value or the validity of the bill, and, therefore, voted for it with some hesitancy.

J. B. CURTIN.

WHEREAS, It is vital to the perpetuity of the nation that this new political progressive party should present to the public a harmonious, tranquil and united organization; and

WHEREAS, There comes from the chemically pure and politically perfect city of Los Angeles a alarming news of discord and disruption, indicating a death struggle for political prestige and party leadership between E. Tobias Earl, on the one side, and Meyer Lissner, Marshall Stimson and Russ Avery, on the other; and

WHEREAS, There exists throughout the State some doubt as to the merits of the controversy, and the people are interested in learning the truth of the charge made by the said E. Resolved, That a committee of three, consisting of Senators Finn, Cartwright and Boyan, be and they are hereby appointed a committee to investigate the facts out of which said controversy has grown, and report back to the Senate such means and measures as will most surely tend to save the political faces of these famous "battlers for the Lord."

PURSUETH ON INJUNCTIONS

The following statement on the subject of "Government by Injunction," presented by Mr. Andrew Furuseth to the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives in 1894, is reprinted from the Congressional Record [House proceedings] of March 6th:

Mr. Hughes of New Jersey: Mr. Speaker, I desire to submit the following statement of the subject of [illegible] and ask

The Speaker: The gentleman from New Jersey asks unanimous consent to insert his remarks in the Record. Is there objection?

There was no objection.

Mr. Hughes, of New Jersey: This is the statement:

Statement of Mr. A. Furuseth representing the International Seamen's Union of America.

Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the committee, the committee that has been brought here, and which I am now now to dispute, to this point is a property right in labor.

"This bill and the hearings thereon being in some measure a conflict which is but another phase of that contest of aggression to compel workers the property belonging the house of Have and the house of Want; on the part of labor one way for freedom, on the part of capital the assignment of servitude.

"There are some positions taken by the employers and their attorneys which, to say the least, will be surprising reading for thoughtful men when more carefully considered will bring the people to see with us either as the American people should be yet of the opinion which made this country come into the [illegible] and resolved to abolish the ownership of man by man in any form.

"What is the status between employers and employed? It is loosely called the labor question. What is it? What does it mean?

In the old Roman world, from which we obtain many of our ideas regarding our ideas about law, and certainly our [illegible] the legal principle was [illegible] as absolutism—absolutism in religion, absolutism in the state, and absolutism in industry. The whole philosophy of life was in the concept that there were sons of the gods to teach, to govern, to pray; and sons of the earth, without souls, to be saved or damned, to be taught, to be governed, to be preyed upon. Into this came the teachings of the Christ, the concept that there is but one God and that all men are His children, equal heirs to all the bounties of the Father. We have been taught to pray, 'Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done, as in heaven so also on earth.' We have been taught to bear each other's burden; that God is no respecter of persons, that each will be responsible for his own acts, and so forth.

"It took some fifteen hundred years of intense struggle, expressing itself through organizations based upon religious discontent, to establish religious freedom. It took 300 more years for organizations based upon political discontent to give us such political freedom as we now have. And the labor movement is but this fundamental Christian idea taking hold of the industrial field in an endeavor to transform it into its own image. This, gentlemen, is, in short, the labor movement. Absolutism has been removed from Church and the State; it yet holds full sway in industry. Yet the employer says, 'This is my business; I am this business.' Like the dictum of Louis the Fourteenth, 'I am the State.' We of the labor movement dispute this. We hold that since the business can not exist without the worker, he has something to say, or should have something to say, about it. We do not claim that we are always right in what we say, but since the toiler can not be divorced from his labor power, the claim set up here of a vested right in so much labor power as will make a plant profitable is not only un-Christian but un-American.

"This evolution toward 'The Kingdom' meets on the industrial field a most formidable power. There are plants which employ in different ways 150,000 men. Allowing 5 to a family, this means 750,000 men, women, and children. The owner or owners claim the right to determine the hours of labor, which means what time the employee may be with his family. They claim the sole right to determine wages. This means the power to say in what kind of house the worker shall live, what kind of clothing shall be worn by his wife and children, what shall be their food, what kind of education they shall gain, what character shall be developed by the rising generation. The power of kings is as nothing to this. Kingly power only touches the life of the people in spots—at intervals. Here is a power which goes into the very essence of life, and at no time in the history of the Goth-Germanic race was such a power vested in individual man. As it has grown it has sought to control the political action of the workmen subject to it, and did so control it that it was necessary to make the ballot secret. It controls in a measure the legal profession through patronage and place; the newspapers, through their advertising columns; the churches, through the pew; the institutions of learning, through endowments; and the jury system is threatened through an unwarranted use of the writ of injunction—nay, we have found judges who were not proof against this power and who have used their holy office contrary to the settled law. Thus the virus of industrial absolutism is borrowing through every safeguard and filling the holes with maggots of its own making.

"What can the working class do? In the developments and the law, of which we complain, we are considered and treated as a class. Here is a power which watches over us in the shop, at our home, at our evening meeting, and at the polls. To incur its displeasure means discharge, and this means the finding, if we can, employment in some other line of industry and loss of such value as our acquired skill may have.

"We apply the lessons, taught us by the animals, of 'mutual aid.' We come together for protection and endeavor to put into practice the instruction 'to bear each other's burden,' but are promptly met by an order from the court under which this is called 'conspiracy'; and the oldest of Saxon rights, the trial by jury, is swept away.

"Not that all our employers act thus. Many, nay, perhaps a majority, would have it otherwise; but they have to keep up with the procession or go out of business.

"We exercise the right of assembly, we discuss our grievances; we appoint our committee and respectfully submit our petition for redress; and we are told that Jones, Smith & Co. would gladly grant our petition, but there is Hogg, Hunger & Co. to inform them that we are now paying less wages. Jones, Smith & Co. can not grant our request. It would mean going out of business. We know that there is some truth in this statement, and we set aside a few cents per week, and after a while we send somebody to the employees of Hogg, Hunger & Co. to inform them that we and they may have better conditions if they will make common cause, and that we have saved together a few dollars which we will share with them in feeding the little ones if they will stand in. They weigh the chances of success or failure and determine to risk all in an effort to better the condition of themselves and those dependent on them. Their petition is presented to their employers, who promptly refuse even to consider it.

"The employers are that business, and the mere presenting of the petition is to dispute their authority. The bearers of the petition are promptly dismissed from the service. Then follows a strike, a refusal to furnish the labor power, without which the great plant is of no value. Working people far and near are notified of the strike and requested to keep away. pickets are placed to intimidate those who come and men have been working all who have been badly intimidated to work. Police protect from the agents and due to the necessity to feed them. A request to print the point to decide. The workers refuse, preparatory to resume it, and they constitute a group, when they are dispersed, arresting each other, which each other and the men going into the place. That the men showed splendid judgment to appeal the rule, but their presence, the fact of organized on the fence, and the knowledge of who they are out of work quickness the commencement of those at work and they, too, quit.

This, particularly of the committee's case, the determination on to aid bettering the situation on the Colony Colliery Co. in West Virginia, where the corporation compelled the persons to live under the jurisdiction. In Charleston, we will see it up. the wholly unconcealed in the peaceful body union which is terrorizing. The "Day of wages, which appears in every mine, is one giving one weight on a scale, is in nothing but to fathom every way, into the whole between the mine to discover. In every mining hole had commenced that which the position was presented.

The Colony Colliery Co., finding the men leaving the employ, gave into camps and were there told to live in rent asked to where to live because of the men would a week per $5.00 per month are available. It has a method to prevent whether it is under compulsion to deliver the coal, but this not, because the interests of their own, refuse to work. Even these camps for spending more given, as were the conditions upon which they would continue, but in place of leaving with the men the companies gave notice to the men. The company figured out the most exactly being those where it received the most exorbitant profits. The permanent, poor and necessary men in the company a council upon the necessary local wages and who to operate the plant, which will subscribe the plan and successful to carry.

The men went to camps was the labor men whose lives are not be divorced from the labor is true to the interests. There was no notice to distribution of goods or which the union officers of the company would pay rigidly—there who to receive property possessed. The evening papers of the place had posted, we were about to pass and the men was necessary to be loaded that kind of property. The must look the time of the company and hand the committee. That the to pass- men that prospects might be given work with the proposition of the union, and and the property right on the part of the union which destroyed the necessity right of the union himself and had been unjust. The fact of legacy never submitted to the union. There were had been working for previous committees, proceedings, refusing and making inflammatory speeches, and this they had been using these before and, prior to evictions they had done to violate laws of discharge and used to influence.

I have said that the union destroying the property right of the miners to work where. In these men was permitting men, labor, as in union and contracts posted to any labor, to organize and Samuel Gompers from refusing available laborers to do what he has a right to do, refusing with private would destroy the natural right of negotiated persons. John Doe, who is working for Hugg, Hunger & Co. has the right to sell work that he has labor to organize himself and family to work and labor by contracts of work. The employers of Jones, Smith & Co. offer to divide with those these earnings to give Doug Ford and others, and the union steps in and forbids John Doe and his family are injured and men employed in the employ of Hugg, Hunger & Co. against their will. The result has to participate with causing to lose, consequences to contemplate when it would not be effective.

If Hugg, Hunger & Co. have no property right to John Doe—if John Doe is a servant, not to be sold by auction, peonage, and slavery. Again, if Smith, Smith & Co. cannot offer to John Doe a place on their terms, John may leave and accept the new employment. So that, no natural union when employers there is no vested right in the trade pursuit. The individuals are no property as he lives and he may go from one to the other. He says that wages is given quality of labor one hand over, but he many not be given such assistance as will supply him as workers as work as not unless the employer may find employment to take his place. Keep the employer going, and thus prevent the right from being idle and demoralizing. If so, as true, if the body he the same, the union right is the meeting and using discretion. That the shareholder means through a declining loss of the manner to move and to a fixed number of to what was adjusted, to the men. If he the part of that employer, or the plant has a property right to him, then the whole proposition is logical and right. Upon any other property have men also be considered.

"As citizens he and his families are under the protection of the Bill of Rights as workmen they are property—are to individuals, are not as a class, etc. Is this American? We hold that the workmen is engaged in the occupation and that the Declaration of Independence insured to defend property to the exercise of individual, where to save that. All men are created equal, and are to enjoy certain inherent and inalienable rights among which are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, across laws and means show what is same, and that the wage earner is no exception. We maintain that the equal protection of the bill of rights and the laws to all men, regardless of their station, in the American idea. We claim no immunity from any law we claim the same right to be considered intercept until proven guilty as other citizens; that we shall be held, as other men, to be law-abiding.

"Would anybody dream of protecting the earning power of a small store by getting out an injunction against the department store? Why not serve us with an injunction forbidding us to transfer our patronage from one store to another? Is it because they both have a vested right in our patronage that we may not combine to withhold it from either? Yet these absurdities, these invasions of our right to individual liberty, this claim of vested right in our labor and our patronage are gravely called by employers their 'property rights,' which must be protected by injunction. They organize a society to take the place of the State in enforcing the law, and send their delegates here to file an indictment against the system of government, preparatory to, as they threaten, taking the law into their own hands if the Congress shall refuse to sustain their new American claim to property right in the labor of the wage earner.

"There are two thoughts growing in our industrial life equally unreasonable and dangerous, that the employer has a property right in the labor of his workmen and that the employee has some kind of property right in his job. If there should be any such right as last mentioned it would naturally follow that the job has some right in the employee, and the workman who sets up such claim is selling his birthright for a mess of pottage.

"In their essence these claims are socialistic. It is these claims accepted that form the basis of the theories of State socialism. And yet when we ask that the Congress shall pass a bill which will protect the employer and employee alike, the employers pronounce it socialistic and dub us Socialists.

"Nor is there the slightest possibility of any such claims being considered for a moment. Is there a 'right to work'? If so, it must be based upon the 'right to life' and run against the State, which in protecting and making such right effective is bound under the same declaration to do so without in any way destroying the 'right to liberty,' which is on an exact equality with the 'right to life' in that instrument. Such right is an individual right. Labor is an attribute of life, inseparable therefrom, hence is life.

"Property is something which we may acquire, possess, and part with. It may be contracted away; it may be alienated; it may be destroyed without destroying the possessor. Labor is therefore not property in which some other person may acquire a property right which will give him a standing in an equity court. That no such property right exists was decided by the Supreme Court of Massachusetts in December, 1892.

"In Worthington vs. Waring (157 Mass. 421, December, 1892), laborers who had been employed in a mill in Fall River and had left because they could not obtain higher wages, brought a bill against the treasurer and superintendent of the corporation, the employment of which they had left, and officers of other mills, charging that these officers had conspired together and put the names of the plaintiffs upon a 'blacklist,' stating that the petitioners had been engaged in a strike, and had induced all employers of their kind of labor in Fall River to refuse to employ them 'with intent to compel them either to go without work in Fall River or to go back to work for the corporation, the employment of which they had left, at such wages as that corporation should see fit to pay them.'

"And asked that the defendants be restrained 'from annoying the petitioners and interfering with their rights to earn their livelihood at their trade in Fall River, and to withdraw and destroy all blacklists or other devices used by the defendants or under their orders for that purpose.'

"To this the court said that if the petition charged a conspiracy, which was a misdemeanor at common law, the remedy was by indictment, and if the injury caused to the petitioners by the conduct of the defendants constituted a cause of action, the remedy was by an action of tort to be brought by each petitioner separately. The court then said that while 'courts of equity often protect property from threatened injury when the rights of property are equitable, or when, although the rights are legal, the civil and criminal remedies at common law are not adequate, but the rights which the petitioners allege the defendants were violating at the time the petition was filed are personal rights, as distinguished from the rights of property,' and, therefore, the court declined to entertain the petition.

"Being personal rights, as distinct from property rights, when not contracted away, and as such incapable of being protected by a court of equity, the laborer can not assign a right which he does not possess, hence a contract to labor will give no right in the laborer which can be enforced in equity.

"We thus come back to the one fundamental question: 'Is there going along with the ownership of the mine, factory, or means of transportation a vested right in so much labor as is needed to make it profitable?'

"If such right exists, whence is it obtained? It surely is contrary to the thirteenth amendment of the Constitution. If any such right runs against us as a class, upon what members of the class can it be enforced?

"The employers and business men who come here in good faith and make this claim of vested right in our labor and our patronage, are to-day not much to be blamed. They find this idea expressing itself in the capitalization of the earning power of great enterprises. They have possibly paid good money for stocks and bonds, which are nothing but a mortgage upon the labor of the future. We learn from our industrial superiors that even their augmented profits! But that some of their attorneys should take the same position in a matter of such serious and vital importance as that at issue.

"Can it be possible that these attorneys took such action on their own motion? Through all the testimony and arguments there seems to run the idea of special right in an entire labor union as well as the idea of control in the employment of Mr. Hoyt, who recognized that such right does not exist and who accepted the fact.

"These facts were apparent whenever the bill for the general injunction in said case I first came up. On motion of counsel for the defendants, I then set the same hearing down for the consideration of the bill and motion for the writ for the 15th day of March, 1913, and for the same hearing there was then issued and served upon the defendants in said case an order to show cause why the writ of injunction should not be granted as prayed for in the bill of complaint. Thereafter, on the 15th day of March, 1913, the defendants in said case appeared in court by their attorneys, and the hearing of the motion for the writ of injunction was then and there had, and the defendants, by their attorneys, submitted their affidavits in opposition to the motion for the writ of injunction, and the plaintiff submitted his affidavits in support of the motion for the writ of injunction injunctions than ever; imprisonments in consequence, as yet comparatively rare, will multiply, and hosts of men and women will find out for the first time how a prison looks on the inside.

"If this has to be, it must be, but—

"'And tho' ye gave her felon fare,
Bid felon garb her liv'ry be;
And tho' ye set the oakum task—
I tell you all, she still is free!'"

COMMUNICATION FROM RAILROAD COMMISSION.

The following communication was received and read:

RAILROAD COMMISSION OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31, 1913.

To the Honorable the Senate of the State of California,
Sacramento, California

GENTLEMEN: We desire to acknowledge receipt of communication dated March 26, 1913, from Mr. W. N. Parrish, Secretary of your honorable body, transmitting a copy of resolution adopted on March 25, 1913, referring to this commission for its comments upon Senate Bills Nos. 587, 663, 834, 1103, 1473 and 1709. This communication was received to-day and we hasten to reply thereto.

Our comments on these bills are as follows:

Senate Bill No. 887 (Hans) Municipal Corporations: This bill proposes to add to the Civil Code a new section, to be numbered 550*a*, and providing, in effect, that upon the application in writing of the owners or occupants of three separate buildings or premises contiguous to each other and fronting on the line of any street or proposed street, which premises are distant not more than 300 feet from the main or pipe of any water company, said company must supply water as required and must construct the necessary main or service pipe. No charge is to be made for extending the service pipe to a point just within the curb line of the street. There is a proviso to the effect that where the land to be traversed by the main is private property and no street has been laid out, the corporation may make a charge for the cost of the main pipe used and the installation of the same, and upon the payment of the charge, the pipe shall become the property of the applicants.

With reference to this bill we desire to make the following comments:

1. It will be noted that the duty to make the extension arises only where there are three separate buildings or premises contiguous to each other, and only in case those premises are distant not more than 300 feet from any main or pipe of a water company. By implication, there is no duty to supply water under any other circumstances. A person who owns a single building where there are not two other contiguous buildings, or when his premises are distant more than 300 feet from a water main or pipe, is not brought within the provisions of the bill, and his right to demand water is, by implication, taken away.

2. Under the provisions of the Public Utilities Act, the Railroad Commission now has authority to compel water companies to make extensions wherever it may seem necessary, irrespective of whether the distance is 500 feet, or more or less and irrespective of whether there is one building or ten supplied by any pipeline in existing districts.

If the bill is to stand, we would respectfully suggest that it be amended so as not to take away the jurisdiction the rights of persons who do not fall within the terms of the bill, and also so that the commission's powers with reference to the subject matter of the bill be not abrogated.

Senate Bill No. 995 (Copyright) Municipal Corporations. This bill proposes to amend Section 6[illegible] of the Civil Code, which section was enacted in 1909, and makes it the duty of gas and electrical companies to furnish their service to buildings and premises distant not more than 100 feet from their mains or wires. The amendment proposes to add certain facts and conditions precedent to the compulsion which are not now in the duties imposed by said Section 6[illegible].

With reference to this bill, we desire to submit the following comments:

1. This bill, by implication, takes Away the duty to render service to any buildings or premises which are distant more than 100 feet from the mains or wires.

2. In so far as affects gas, electrical and telephone companies, the subject matter of the bill is at present fully covered by the Public Utilities Act. This commission now has power under that Act to compel public utilities to furnish their service wherever it may be necessary, whether the distance is 100 feet, or more or less. If in any case this power within reasonable limits may not be exercised by this commission, the proper place is in the appropriation proposition.

3. Item 340, being a item appearing in the appropriation bill, would amount to a repeal pro tanto of the powers of this commission. It might well be held that this bill, if enacted, would take away from the commission its various powers to compel extensions on the part of gas, electrical and telephone companies.

Senate Bill No. 864 (Anderson) Irrigation. This is a bill providing for the organization of water companies, defining the powers and duties of the Railroad Commission with reference thereto, and defining the conditions upon which such water companies become subject to the provisions of the Public Utilities Act and the Railroad Commission.

This bill was drawn by President Ballagher of this commission and we believe that it would be well to adopt it. If existing districts which have chosen with reference to certain water companies which have secured their rights and acquired in the jurisdiction of the Railroad Commission, and also given to the corporations the valuable right to duty to a water company the right to take an additional consumers if it has reached the limit of its capacity to supply water.

Senate Bill No. 1408 (Anderson) Corporations. This bill has already been referred to this commission by your honorable body and was commented upon in our letter to your Honorable body, dated March 26, 1913. We respectfully refer to our comments in that letter.

Senate Bill No. 1473 (Anderson) Judiciary. This bill has also already been referred to this commission by your honorable body and was commented upon in our letter of March 26, 1913, above mentioned. We respectfully refer to our comments in that letter.

Senate Bill No. 1700 (Gibbs) Judiciary. This bill proposes to add to the Civil Code a new section, to be known as Section 6[illegible] and providing in effect that upon the application in writing of the owner or occupant of any building or premises distant not more than 1000 feet from any wire or system of supply of a telephone company, the company must furnish telephone service without the payment of a deposit.

With reference to this bill we desire to make the following comments:

1. Under the provisions of Section 36 of the Public Utilities Act, this commission now has the power to compel a utility to make such extensions as are just and reasonable. This power is not limited to a distance of 1000 feet, but may be exercised wherever the circumstances demand such action, whether the point of use be located more or less than 1000 feet from the utility's mains or wires.

2. If this bill is passed, the telephone companies may well contend that the act, by implication, relieves them of the necessity of making extensions where the distance is greater than 1000 feet.

3. The passage of this bill will probably amount to a repeal of this commission's power to order telephone companies to make extensions.

We desire again to express our thanks for having afforded an opportunity to comment on bills affecting the powers of this commission. If we can be of any further service we shall be very glad to respond.

Respectfully,

RAILROAD COMMISSION
JOHN M. ESHLEMAN,
H. D. LOVELAND,
ALEX. GORDON,
MAX THELEN,
EDWIN O. EDGERTON,
Commissioners

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 23.

Relative to the establishment of a Government-owned line of steamships to operate between Pacific and Atlantic ports.

WHEREAS, The shippers of the Pacific coast were for many years at the mercy of the transcontinental railroads in the matter of rates charged upon shipments to and from the Atlantic seaboard and eastern states; and

WHEREAS, These transcontinental railroads have attempted and now are attempting to secure an absolute monopoly of transportation facilities by destroying independent water competition via the Isthmus of Panama and by controlling existing lines of steamships; and

WHEREAS, This monopoly is now threatening to become absolute through the destruction of the California-Atlantic Steamship Company, which was controlled by Henry Sears Bates and Arthur Sewall Chesebrough, worthy descendants of illustrious California pioneers; and

WHEREAS, The experience of the California-Atlantic Transportation Company has demonstrated the impossibility of a successful fight by individuals for an independent steamship line because of the sinister and powerful influences controlling the transcontinental railroads and steamship lines now operating; and

WHEREAS, It is vital to the commercial life of the Pacific coast and to the nation as a whole that competition be maintained against the transcontinental railroads and their steamship lines and that that competition be strong enough to withstand the ruthless tactics of organized wealth; and

WHEREAS, The construction of the great Panama Canal will be a menace instead of a benefit to the people of the United States if the transcontinental railroads are allowed to maintain a monopoly of water competition; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate and Assembly of the State of California jointly express their approval of a government owned and operated line of steamships to operate between Pacific and Atlantic ports via Panama; and be it further

COMMUNICATION.

The President presented the following telegram to the Senate:

CHICO, CAL., April 3, 1913.

Lieutenant Governor Wallace, President of the Senate, State Capitol, Sacramento:

It has pained and surprised me to be quoted by Attorney Benson in his arguments against the Kehoe bill at the public hearing of the Joint Committee on Morals in the Judiciary Chamber on the Capitol Tuesday evening, April 1st, that I, Mrs. John Bidwell, was against a bill affecting my name in the way it has as one of the committee that drafted the resolutions condemning the Kehoe bill. As a member of the Women's Board of the Panama-Pacific Exposition, I declare that I knew nothing of these resolutions when I would emphatically have opposed had I known thereof. My position on the question is so well known that I cannot believe my name could be affixed to those resolutions.

I request that this letter be read in the Senate and also made public through the daily Journal.

MRS. JOHN BIDWELL

said improvement, notwithstanding that the proceedings of the city council or other officers or agents of the city, or other persons connected therewith may have been irregular, illegal or defective, or not in full conformity with the requirements of this statute. Such reassessment shall be made without a repetition of the proceedings had prior to the issuance of the assessment and shall be made and issued in the following manner: The superintendent of streets shall, upon the entering of a decree of court directing the reassessment, or upon the passage of a resolution of the city council directing a reassessment, proceed at once to make a reassessment in accordance with the said decree of court, or said resolution of the city council. The city clerk shall then advertise the fact of filing by publishing a notice in the official newspaper, or in such other paper as the council may direct, by five (5) insertions if the paper be a daily, or by two (2) insertions if it be a weekly or semi-weekly newspaper, stating the fact that the reassessment has been filed with him and that objections to said reassessment will be heard at the time specified by the city council. At the time fixed for said hearing, or at such time or times to which the same may be thereafter adjourned, the city council shall consider the objections to said reassessment and in its discretion revise, correct and modify such reassessment in such manner as is most equitable, and it shall thereupon pass a resolution approving and confirming such reassessment, and such decision shall be a final determination of all matters relating to the actual benefits derived, or to be derived from the improvement by the respective lots, pieces and parcels of land enumerated in the reassessment. And in all cases of recovery under the provisions of this Act, where suit has been brought after one year from the date of the assessment or after personal demand has been made on the owner as hereinafter provided, the plaintiff shall recover the sum of fifteen dollars, in addition to the taxable costs as attorney's fees, but not any percentage upon said recovery; but no suit shall be brought for the recovery of any such assessment and no attorney's fees or costs shall be recovered until a demand in writing has been served personally on the owner of the lot or parcel of land assessed and such owner has failed to pay such assessment before the expiration of ten days after the service of such demand, or unless one year has elapsed from the date of the assessment. Proof of service of such demand shall be made by affidavit in like manner as proof of service of summons in a civil action. If the contractor or his agent, or any person acting in behalf of the contractor shall, prior to the filing of a complaint for the recovery of any assessment as herein provided, make any written demand upon or present any bill or notice in writing to such owner, demanding, requesting or notifying such owner to pay or that there is due, attorney's fees or court costs in connection with the collection of such assessment, then the contractor shall forfeit to such owner the amount of such assessment and the superintendent of streets is authorized, upon written demand of such owner, accompanied by the affidavit of such owner, that such written demand, bill or notice for the payment of attorney's fees and costs, or either thereof, prior to the commencement of suit, to mark said assessment "Paid" and such assessment shall thereby be deemed to be paid and the lien thereof released. When the ownership of two or more lots or parcels of land on which assessments in the same proceeding have not been paid is identical, one action may be brought to collect the assessments on all of said lots or parcels of land, and in case more than one action is brought against the owner of more than one lot or parcel of land where the ownership is identical, as aforesaid, the court shall, upon the motion of such owner or owners, consolidate such actions, and in the event of such consolidation of actions and recovery therein, only fifteen dollars as attorney's fees shall, unless otherwise ordered by the court, be recovered; and when suit has been brought as in this section provided, the plaintiff shall be entitled to have and recover said attorney's fee, and taxable costs, notwithstanding that the suit may be settled or a tender may be made before a recovery in said action, and he may have judgment therefor. Suit may be brought in the superior court within whose jurisdiction the city is in which said work has been done, and in case any of the assessments are made against lots, portions of lots, or lands the owners of which cannot, with due diligence, be found, the service of summons in such of such actions may be had in such manner as is prescribed in the codes and laws of this state. The court in which said suit shall be commenced shall have power to adjudge and decree a lien against the premises assessed, and to order such premises to be sold on execution, as in other cases of the sale of real estate by the process of said court; and on appeal, the appellate courts shall be vested with the same power to adjudge and decree a lien and to order such premises to be sold on execution or decree as is conferred on the court from which an appeal is taken. Such premises, if sold, may be redeemed as in other cases. In all suits now pending, or hereafter brought to recover street assessments, the proceedings therein shall be governed and regulated by the provisions of this Act, and also, when not in conflict herewith by the codes of this state. REPORT OF SELECT COMMITTEE.

The following report of select committee was received and read:

To the Senate and Assembly of the State of California:

We, your committee appointed pursuant to joint resolution number eleven, introduced on the 27th day of January, 1913, and calling for a committee of five members of the Assembly and five members of the Senate to ascertain the advisability of submitting to the people of the State the question of bonding the State for the purpose of making needed additions to the capitol, asylums, hospitals and other public institutions of the State, beg leave to report as follows:

At a meeting of this joint committee held on the 4th day of March, 1913, a subcommittee, consisting of Senator Saunders, chairman of the Finance Committee of the Senate, and W. F. Chandler, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the Assembly, was instructed to visit the state institutions during the constitutional recess, and this committee herewith submits the report of said sub-committee, which your committee has accepted and herewith presents, to wit:

"Lack of time prevented our visiting all the state buildings. We have, however, visited the five asylums located at Patton, Agnews, Stockton, Napa and Ukiah, the reform school at Whittier, the prisons at Folsom and San Quentin, the Sonoma State Home, the Home for the Adult Blind, the California Institution for the Deaf and Blind, the Home for the Feeble-Minded, the Veterans' Home, Serra's Preparatory Institute at San Diego, the normal schools at Los Angeles, San Diego, Santa Barbara, San Jose and San Francisco, the Polytechnic School at San Luis Obispo, the University at Berkeley, the University Farm at Davis and the agricultural buildings at the State Fair Grounds.

We find all of these institutions under excellent supervision, and the persons in charge are doing good work. Many of these institutions are outgrown, and are badly overcrowded, particularly the asylums, the Sonoma State Home and the Veterans' Home. Additional room should be provided as soon as possible.

We believe that a board of not to exceed three members should be created to have full supervision over all the asylums, prisons and reform schools instead of a local board for each one as at present.

We also suggest that each institution should have a definite plan of building to be followed in the future, and that, as far as is practical, all buildings should be of a permanent character.

The buildings at the Whittier Reform School are in very bad condition. The manual training department amounts to practically nothing, and we believe that the Legislature has been negligent in not providing better training facilities for those boys and girls. If we expect to reform these young people we must give them something to do.

Owing to the unfavorable location of this institution, we suggest that a new site be secured, and as soon as convenient, this school be transferred to the new site and the property where the institution is now located be disposed of.

There should be another hospital constructed in Southern California to relieve the overcrowded condition at Patton.

The Veterans' Home and the Sonoma State Home are both badly overcrowded, and the wooden structures at the former should be replaced with permanent fireproof buildings.

We believe that if the State intends to maintain an agricultural department of the State University it should be maintained on a scale that will be a credit to the State, and such as will place this State at least on a parity with other states of the Union in this line of work.

If this policy is followed it will require a large annual appropriation, and we hope future Legislatures will be able to make such appropriations.

We believe all of these improvements and betterments can be made without bonding the State for the purpose of raising the money.

If our present tax system is not adequate to meet the requirements of the State, we believe it better to levy an ad valorem tax sufficient to put all of our state institutions on a permanent, adequate base, and in so doing to anticipate the future growth of the State.

We recommend that a bond issue for the purpose of making needed additions and improvements to the State Capitol be submitted to a vote of the people, and we further recommend that the question of the erection of a state building in the civic center of San Francisco also be submitted to a vote of the people."

Respectfully submitted.

W. F. CHANDLER, Chairman.
EDW. K. STROBRIDGE.

MINORITY REPORT SUBMITTED.

The following minority report was submitted:

SENATE CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, April 8, 1913.

MR. PRESIDENT: The following is submitted as a minority report on Senate Bill No. 905, entitled "An Act to promote the general welfare of the people of the State of California by creating and enforcing a liability on the part of employers to compensate their employees," etc.

It is the opinion of the minority of the Committee on Labor and Capital that Senate Bill No. 905 in its present form is unconstitutional and that it violates Section 24 of Article II of the Constitution, which provides that every Act shall embrace but one subject, which subject shall be embraced in the title. The title of the Act and the text of the bill deal with three subjects, to wit: Compensation to be paid employees by employers in the event of accident, regardless of the fault of either; second, the creation of an insurance department on the part of the State of Cali-forms to insure employees against loss growing out of accidents to employees; and, third, the creation of a special department for the purpose of investigating accidents.

He moved further proposed that some provision by the Senate now in favor of compensation commissions or employers' and other acts providing for safety of employees, but the non-existence of the Senate committee on the subjects of labor and therefore the committee proposed that Senate Bill 331, which provided more drastic security and features with more drastic with the compensation provision, the subject with insurance, was the most which the safety of employees.

In view of the fact that the Senate has adjourned to-day to meet the House, and in order that it may be sure that the amendments shall be considered, the committee recommend the adoption of the following amendments to Senate Bill No. 331:

SEC. 6. Section 27 of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 27. At any time after the period of thirty days from the date of the date of the warrants, as herein provided or if no appeal is taken to the city council, as provided in Section 26 of this Act, at any time after five days from the decision of said council, or after the return of the warrant or assessment after the same may have been corrected, altered or modified, as provided in said Section 26 (but not less than thirty five days from the date of the warrant), the contractor or his assignee may sue, in his own name, the owner of the land, lot, or portions of lots assessed on the day of the date of the recording of the warrant, assessment, and diagram, or any day thereafter during the continuance of the time of said assessment, and collect the amount of any assessment remaining unpaid, with interest thereon at the rate of ten per cent per annum until paid. And in all cases of recovery under the provisions of this Act, where personal demand has been made upon the owner or his agent but not otherwise, the plaintiff shall recover such sum as the court may fix, in addition to the taxable cost as attorney's fees, but not any percentage upon said recovery. And when suit has been brought, after a personal demand has been made and a refusal to pay such assessment so demanded, the plaintiff shall be entitled to have and recover the sum of fifteen dollars as attorney's fees, in addition to all taxable costs, notwithstanding that the suit may be settled or a tender may be made before a recovery in said action, and he may have judgment therefor. Suit may be brought in the superior court within whose jurisdiction the city is in which said work has been done, and in case any of the assessments are made against lots, portions of lots, or lands, the owners whereof cannot, with due diligence, be found, the service of each of said actions may be had in such manner as is prescribed in the codes and laws of this state. It shall be competent to bring a single action, under any such assessment irrespective of the number of lots assessed where the parties defendant are identical, and where separate actions are brought, the same may be consolidated by order of the court. The said warrant, assessment, certificate and diagram, with the affidavit of demand and nonpayment, shall be held prima facie evidence of the regularity and correctness of the assessment and of the prior proceedings and acts of the superintendent of streets and city council upon which said warrant, assessment, and diagram are based, and like evidence of the right of the plaintiff to recover in the action.

In a complaint in any such action it shall be held sufficient to allege that the city council ordered the work, briefly describing it, the execution of the contract for doing said work, the performance of the work, the making of the assessment, the issuing of said warrant and certificate and the making of said diagram; that an assessment (naming the amount) was levied against that certain lot or parcel of land (describing the same) which, according to the information and belief of the plaintiff, is owned by the defendant; that payment of said assessment has been demanded in the time, form and manner prescribed in section twenty-four and that the same has not been paid.

SEC. 7. Section 66 of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 66. The bonds so issued by said treasurer shall be payable to the party to whom they issue, or order, and shall be serial bonds, as is hereinbefore described, and shall bear interest at the rate specified in the resolution of intention to do said work. They shall have annual coupons attached thereto, payable in gold coin on the second day of January in each year after the date of the bonds until all are paid; and each coupon shall be for an even annual proportion of the principal of the bonds. They shall have semi-annual interest coupons thereto attached the first of which shall be payable upon the second day of January or July, as the case may be, next after its date, and shall be for the interest accrued at that time, and the last of which shall be for the amount of interest accruing from the second day of January or July, as the case may be, next preceding the maturity of said bonds, to the maturity thereof. The owner of, or any person interested in, any lot or parcel of land upon which a bond has been issued under the terms of this Act, may at any time pay off such bond and discharge his land from the lien of the assessment by paying to the city treasurer for the holder of such bond the amount due, accrued on the principal sum thereof, and all interest thereon which has accrued and is unpaid, together with the semi-annual installment of interest which will next become due thereafter, and in addition thereto, interest for one year at the rate specified in the bond upon the unpaid amount of the principal. The treasurer shall thereupon make an entry upon his bond register that such bond has been paid in full. The said treasurer shall, in addition to his other duties in the premises, report all payments of principal upon said bonds to the street superintendent, who shall forthwith endorse the same upon the margin of the record of the assessment to the credit of which the same is paid. The assessment upon which a bond is issued shall be a first lien upon the property affected thereby until the bond issued for the payment thereof and the accrued interest thereon shall be fully paid. Said bonds by their issuance shall be conclusive evidence of the regularity of all proceedings thereto under this Act.

SEC. 8. A new section is hereby added to said Act, to be known as Section 82*a*, and to read as follows:

Section 82*a*. Whenever any assessments made and issued under the provisions of this Act, or whenever any bond or bonds issued to represent the amount of any such assessment in accordance with the provisions of this Act, have been set aside by any court having competent jurisdiction, or such court has refused to enforce any assessment, or has decreed that any bond or bonds issued under this Act do not constitute valid and subsisting liens against the lots, pieces or parcels of land upon which the assessments represented by them have been levied, then the superintendent of streets shall cause a new assessment to be made for the same purpose for which the former assessment was made, whether any part of the assessments have been paid or not, and new bonds shall in regular course thereafter issue in the event that bonds were issued under or provided for in the original assessment. WHEREAS, There is now pending before the Legislature of the State of California a measure having for its purpose and object the enlargement and increase of the powers, duties and responsibilities of the State Reclamation Board, and the creation of a district of lands situate within the Sacramento and the San Joaquin valleys and susceptible to inundation from the flood waters of said rivers and their tributaries, to be placed under the jurisdiction and control of said reclamation board to the end that all works of reclamation hereafter inaugurated within said district may be made to conform to one general and comprehensive plan of reclamation having for its object the safe reclamation of so much of the lands within said district as may be safely reclaimed, and the construction of such works as may be necessary to provide a safe means for the escape of the flood waters of said rivers and their tributaries by means of by-passes and artificial channels into the waters of Suisun Bay in conformity with the plans and recommendations of the California Débris Commission transmitted to the Speaker of the House of Representatives by the Secretary of War on June 27, 1911, together with such modifications and amendments thereof as have been heretofore adopted or may hereafter be adopted by said reclamation board; and

WHEREAS, Owing to the reclamation of large bodies of land situate within the basins adjacent to said Sacramento River and its tributaries which have heretofore formed natural reservoirs for the storage and passage of the flood waters of said rivers and the consequent exclusion by means of such works of reclamation of such waters from such basins, thereby greatly increasing the volume of water which must necessarily be confined within the natural channels of said rivers, with a consequent increase in the height of the flood plane thereof to such an extent as to endanger the levees protecting the lands situate near the banks of said rivers, including the territory comprised within the limits of the city of Sacramento; and

WHEREAS, It is deemed by the city commission of the city of Sacramento that it is of vital interest to the welfare of said city that legislation should be adopted vesting in said reclamation board the powers, duties and responsibilities hereinabove referred to; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That such pending legislation be, and the same is hereby, approved by the City Commission of the city of Sacramento; and be it further

Resolved, That the Senate and Assembly of the State of California be and they are hereby, respectively, respectfully requested to enact said amendments as the same may be reported back from their respective committees upon drainage, swamp and overflowed lands, together with such amendments as may be recommended for adoption by said committees; and be it further

Resolved, That in the event of the passage of said measure by the Legislature of the State of California, his Excellency the Governor be respectfully requested to approve the same.

COMMUNICATION TO SENATE.

The following communication was received and read:

RAILROAD COMMISSION OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA.
SAN FRANCISCO, April 10, 1913.

To the Honorable the State Senate, Sacramento, California.

GENTLEMEN: We are in receipt of a letter dated April 9, 1913, written by Mr. W. N. Parrish, the Secretary of your honorable body, inclosing copy of a resolution passed by your honorable body requesting an opinion from the commission upon Senate Bill No. 984, as amended on March 6, 1913, and stating also that a few days ago he had forwarded to this commission for the consideration thereof Assembly bills 50 and 63. As a matter of fact, this commission did not receive any such communication with reference to Assembly bills 50 and 63. We proceed to comment on these three bills as follows:

SENATE BILL NO. 984—LUCK—LABOR AND CAPITAL.

This bill provides, in effect, that on and after January 1, 1914, all engines of locomotive steam boilers shall supply and maintain automatically on each and every boiler and in such position that it may be inspected at reasonable light, a suitable low water indicator which will give an alarm when the water falls below the prescribed limit. The bill provides that the apparatus shall be of such character as to indicate audibly a low water or danger condition of water and to prevent the generation of steam during the danger period. Appropriate penalties are prescribed for violations of the Act.

We have not been advised that railroad cabs with reference to the subject matter of this bill. If there is complaint, the matter may be addressed to being brought to the attention of this commission. The commission at present has complete power, under Section 42 of the Public Utilities Act, to prescribe the use of safety appliances referred to in the bill and if such other safety appliances as may be necessary to promote or safeguard the safety of any employees or passengers of railroad companies. We leave it to the sound judgment of the Legislature as to whether, in view of the fact that the matter sought is already covered by the Public Utilities Act, and that this commission can make needful investigations into the subject in case its attention is drawn to it, it would be a wise state policy to enact special legislation on this subject.

SENATE BILL NO. 50—SMITH—MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS.

This bill proposes to add to the Civil Code a new section to be known as Section No. 550, and providing in effect that it shall be the duty of every water company which has contracted with an incorporated city or town to install and connect fire hydrants upon being directed so to do by the legislative body of such incorporated city or town, within thirty days after receiving written notice of the passage of an ordinance requiring the installation. In case the water company fails to install the hydrants as required by ordinance, the city or town shall cause the same to be installed and connected, whereupon the charge for the work shall be a lien against the water company.

This is a matter affecting the police powers of the cities and we have no comment to make thereon.

ASSEMBLY BILL NO. 63—SMITH—MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS.

This bill proposes to amend Section 540 of the Civil Code of this State, which now provides, in effect, that all water companies must furnish pure, fresh water to the inhabitants of cities and towns for family uses so long as the supply permits at reasonable rates and without distinction of persons, upon proper demand therefor, and must furnish water to the extent of their means, in case of fire or other great necessity, free of charge. The section also provides that the board of supervisors or the proper city or town authorities may prescribe proper rules relating to the delivery of water, not inconsistent with the laws of the State.

It is proposed now to add to this section the following sentence: "In making service connections with its mains it shall be the duty of a water company to extend its service pipes from its mains to a point within the curb line of any street upon which its mains are located, free of cost to the person to whom water service is to be supplied."

While this principle, as it would ordinarily be applied, is undoubtedly correct, and has uniformly been applied by this commission in such water cases as have come before it, we desire to draw the attention of your honorable body to the fact that injustice may result from applying this principle to particular cases. For instance, under this language, it would be the duty of a water company which had laid a water main along only a small portion of a particular street, to construct service connections from this main to property located at any place along the street throughout its entire length, even though the distance be several miles, without any compensation.

Whether or not, in view of the fact that this commission has at the present time, under the Public Utilities Act, jurisdiction over this question, and of the possible injustice which may arise from the application of the principle in its rigid form, the Legislature deems it advisable to embody this provision in the statute, is a matter which we desire to leave to the good judgment of the Legislature.

We desire to draw attention to the fact that that portion of the bill which proposes to re-enact the last sentence of Section 549 of the Civil Code and to give to the boards of supervisors the authority to prescribe proper rules relating to the delivery of water, is undoubtedly unconstitutional, as being opposed to the provisions of Section 23 of Article XII of the constitution, as amended on October 10, 1911, and providing, in part, that all powers over public utilities theretofore exercised by boards of supervisors should be vested in this commission. We assume that if the Legislature desires to pass this bill, it will desire to remove the portion which is unconstitutional.

Very respectfully,

RAILROAD COMMISSION OF CALIFORNIA.

JOHN M. ESHLEMAN,
H. D. LOVELAND,
ALEX GORDON,
MAX THELEN,
EDWIN O. EDGERTON,
Commissioners.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

On motion of Senator Thompson, the following message from the Governor was read:

To the Senate of the State of California:

I return to you herewith Senate Bill 409 without my approval. My objections are as follows:

The bill amends Section 583 of the Code of Civil Procedure. This section is now plain and explicit, authorizing a court in the discretion of justice to dismiss for want of prosecution on motion of the defendant and after notice to the plaintiff, when the plaintiff has failed for two years after summons was issued to bring the action to trial, and authorizing the court in the same manner, or upon motion of plaintiff to dismiss an action unless the same is brought to trial within two years after defendant has filed his answer.

Senate Bill No. 409, to which I refuse my approval, changes a plain and reliable statute into one which is contradictory and ambiguous. The proposed amendment provides that any action heretofore or hereafter commenced shall be dismissed by the court after due notice to plaintiff or by the court on its own motion, unless such action is brought to trial within five years after the defendant has filed his answer, except where the parties have stipulated in writing that the time may be extended. This provision, of course, of itself is plain, but the next portion of the amendment provides that in the absence of such stipulation the action shall be dismissed by the court upon the ex parte motion of the defendant, or of any other person interested in the subject matter of the action unless the action is brought to trial within five years after defendant has filed his answer. The proposed bill, therefore, directs dismissal in the first instance, after due notice to plaintiff, and then directs dismissal under the same set of circumstances upon the ex parte motion of the defendant or of any other person interested.

The statute as it now stands gives ample power apparently to dismiss for want of prosecution. The proposed statute would leave the subject of dismissal for want of prosecution in confusion and ambiguity.

Respectfully submitted.

HIRAM W. JOHNSON, Governor.

Dated April 11, 1913.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE FOR SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 25.

Relative to memorializing Congress regarding the citrus fruit industry of the State of California, and requesting our Senators and Representatives in Congress to use all honorable means to prevent a reduction in duties on citrus fruits below the point where the difference in the cost of production of the same would be equalized.

WHEREAS, The citrus fruit industry is one of the great and important enterprises of this State, representing an investment of two hundred million dollars, and materially contributes to the upbuilding thereof; and

WHEREAS, The rates of duty on citrus fruits should equalize the difference in cost of production between the United States and foreign countries; and

WHEREAS, The present rates of duty bring to the government a substantial revenue that has increased in recent years; and

WHEREAS, A material reduction of the duties on citrus fruits would hamper and retard the growth and development of the State of California; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate and Assembly of the State of California, jointly, That we respectfully memorialize the Congress of the United States not to reduce the duties on citrus fruits below a point equalizing the difference in the cost of production of the same in the United States and foreign countries, and we earnestly request our Senators and Representatives in Congress to use every honorable means to prevent such reduction; be it further

Resolved, That the Governor of the State of California be requested to appoint five citizens of California to present this memorial to Congress in behalf of this State; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be telegraphed to the President and to each of our Senators and Representatives in the Congress of the United States.

PROPOSED SUBSTITUTE BY SENATOR CAMPBELL TO SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 25.

WHEREAS, The Congress of the United States has been convened in extraordinary session to revise the tariff downward, in pursuance of the overwhelming mandate of the people; and

WHEREAS, The President of the United States, in his message read to Congress, said: "We must abolish everything that bears even the semblance of privilege or of any kind of artificial advantage, and put our business men and producers under the stimulation of a constant necessity to be efficient, economical and enterprising, masters of competitive supremacy, better workers and merchants than any in the world. Aside from the duties laid upon articles which we do not, and probably cannot, produce, therefore, and the duties laid upon luxuries and merely for the sake of the revenue they yield, the object of the tariff duties henceforth laid must be effective competition, the whetting of American wits by contest with the wits of the rest of the world"; and

WHEREAS, It is practically certain that a tariff law will be enacted along the line of the principles above enunciated by the President of the United States; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate and Assembly of the Legislature of the State of California do hereby respectfully request that the Congress of the United States, in considering reduction in the present tariff rate on citrus fruits, do take into careful consideration all of the facts in relation to this great California industry, which facts, it is understood, are now in the possession of the Congress. The Senate and Assembly of the Legislature of the State of California desire, in this connection, to draw the special attention of members of Congress to:

(1) The long and expensive railroad haul over the mountains and deserts, by which the California citrus fruit grower is able to reach the market.

(2) The difference in the cost of labor in California and in the competing foreign countries.

(3) The uncertain nature of the business, rendered so by the extreme perishability of the fruit, weather conditions, costly refrigeration, pests, etc.

Further, that none of the industries of California, we believe, now ask, expect or should receive any "semblance of privilege or of any kind of artificial advantage," but on the contrary, that only equality of opportunity be afforded by the fixing of tariff rates that will be just in relation to all the surrounding facts.

Resolved, further, That a copy of this resolution be telegraphed to the President and to each of our Senators and Representatives in the Congress of the United States.

WHEREAS, The President of the United States in his message said to Congress, and

"We must discuss conscientiously how duties arise, the proportion of particular or of any kind of privilege and just and impartial how each particular relates to the maintenance of a constant revenue to the efficient administration and maintaining economies of competitive enterprises. Justice, justice, justice must be the touchstone."

"Aside from the duties and taxes necessary to pay the cost of the government, produce revenue sufficient and equal thereto, and equal taxation, for the sake of the revenue they yield, the subject of the tariff duties, historically and upon its merits, presents the question of whether it is possible with the view of the use of the money to be collected from the people; and

WHEREAS, It is practically universally agreed that a tariff law ought to be enacted along the lines of the principles stated and recommended by the President of the United States; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate and Assembly of the Legislature of the State of California do hereby respectfully request that the Congress of the United States in the enactment of the general tariff laws now pending therein, be asked and requested to consider all of the facts in relation to the many California products, which facts it is understood are now in the possession of the Congress. (1) The long and expensive haul that must be endured and borne by wheat, the California product, from producer's field to market;

(3) The necessary ratio of the increase required in the various products of the farm, pastoral, orchard, vine and processing needs, etc.;

Further Resolved, That some of the industries of California, not enjoying such, we should receive such reasonable protection as will keep them from ruin, and not, but on the contrary, that such assistance or encouragement be afforded as the fixing of tariff rates that will be just to ourselves as to the surrounding world.
